

THE MIDDLETON CENTER

for pastoral care and counseling

The Middleton Center Practitioner

Beth Toler, Th.D., LMFT, is an Assistant Professor and Clinical Program Coordinator in Neumann University's MS degree program in Pastoral Clinical Mental Health Counseling. In addition to her teaching and academic experience, Beth has extensive practical experience in various ministry and mental health settings. For over ten years, she has provided a safe, positive, hope-filled space for individuals, couples, and families who deal with a range of emotional, mental, spiritual, and relational issues.

Specialties:

LGBTQ

Young adults, couples, families

Depression, Anxiety, Grief/loss

Personal growth and development, life transitions

Families living with mental illness