The Middleton Center Practitioner

Dr. Kenneth M. Maguire is a licensed psychologist who specializes in helping couples and individuals, including adolescents. Dr. Maguire helps people explore how they can create the types of relationships they desire. Dr. Maguire works with couples that are dating, considering commitment, or are married/partnered. Dr. Maguire specializes in working with couples and individuals who identify as lesbian, gay, bisexual, intersexual, transsexual, transgender or questioning (LGBTIQ), as well as couples where one or both partners identify as LGBTIQ. Dr. Maguire has successfully treated individuals with histories of physical, sexual and emotional abuse in both couples and individual therapy, and in treating people experiencing difficulty with addictive behaviors.
