This Week

LOVE YOUR NEIGHBOR: WORKING TOWARD ANTI-RACIST PARENTING AND COMMUNITY BUILDING. Mondays, July 27 and Aug. 3, 7:00 - 8:15 p.m. via Zoom Conference Call. A venue for parents and people of faith to listen and discuss issues of racism, privilege and discrimination in our Main Line schools. We will hear from local students and parents as they share their personal experiences of racism. We will look to our shared and diverse interfaith traditions for ways parents and community members can confront these pervasive issues together. Our conversations on July 27 will shape our format for Mon., Aug. 3. Click here to register. Zoom link to join the event:

ROPE LABYRINTH WALK. Wed., July 29, 10:00 a.m. - 8:00 p.m., Front Lawn. The labyrinth is viewed as a metaphor for life's journey. It offers lessons as you walk the path. All are welcome to walk this sacred path. The labyrinth is offered as another way to support BMPC's response to systemic racism in our community and world. Information and prayer cards will be provided. Masks and social distancing are required.

BMPC SUMMER PODCAST. The church has created a new mobile adult education resource for you to continue learning and growing during the summer when we are unable to be together. More than 12 episodes are now available online, via Apple and Google Podcasts as well as Spotify, or directly from our church website.

This week's episode, The Fullness of a Baptismal Identity, focuses on practices surrounding the Sacrament of Baptism have shaped differing Christian traditions for centuries and even led to conflicts and schism among Christian believers. In today's episode, Rebecca Kirkpatrick is joined again by Dr. Joshua Yoder as they chat about the tensions between their different faith traditions - Presbyterian and Mennonite - especially as they relate to the practices and history of baptism. They also talk about what it means to live in the tensions between these traditions.

Have an idea of someone in our community who you would like to hear in a future episode? Contact Rebecca Kirkpatrick.
